Katy Officials Remain Silent

Rumors Circulate on Staff Reorganization and Layoffs

ST. LOUIS — Top officials of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas (Katy) Railroad kept a close-mouthed silence today on reports of a major administrative staff reorganization and extensive layoffs by the railroad's new management.

Divisional points as well as the railroad's general headquarters in St. Louis were affected. The railroad has moved its treasury department to Dallas, Tex., and there were rumors the bulk of the administrative staff would be transferred to Denison, Texas.

Repeated efforts by news-men to obtain a statement on the Katy's plans from William N. Deramus III were unsuccessful. Deramus took over as the new president of the line in January.

An official of a railway union said similar efforts by the union to obtain information on the changes had been unavailing. The union official said the Katy system was "alive with rumors."

In Denison, Tex., yesterday a local official said available housing in that city would determine how many employees would be transferred there.

Recently, sixty employees of the auditing and accounting department in Dallas were sent to Denison. Some are living in hotels and others are driving the 90 miles between the cities.

The Globe-Democrat said railroad officers here would not speak of reported plans to concentrate more operating and office personnel in Dallas and Denison.

The Denison Herald reported yesterday that scores of craftsmen worked on an emergency basis in remodeling the depot building in Denison and on two other large buildings.

Unemployed Pay Raise Goes to Blair

JEFFERSON CITY — The House today approved a bill to increase maximum unemployment compensation from $25 for 24 weeks to $35 for 26 weeks.

Now only the governor's signature is needed to make the bill a law.

A similar proposal was vetoed by former Gov. Phil M. Donnelly after it had passed both houses two years ago.

The unemployment compensation measure also would tighten up requirements for receiving aid. Under the proposed law a person must "earnestly" seek work, instead of simply desiring a job.

Women expecting a baby would not be eligible for unemployment money for three months before the child is born and one month after, thereby eliminating what one legislator called "a condition where more women in some places were receiving compensation for having babies than men were getting aid for being unemployed."

The bill was agreed upon by both management and unions. The State Chamber of Commerce, Associated Industries of Missouri and Missouri State Labor Council (AFL-CIO) helped draft it.

The increase in individual payments will be met by slightly higher payments by employers.

Other bills readied for the governor's signature would:

Give Missouri control of $769,000 in excess unemployment compensation funds paid in by Missouri employers but held by the federal government.

Order Prison Guards to Quit Labor Union

JEFFERSON CITY — Guards at the State Penitentiary have been ordered to quit their labor union membership by April 1 or lose their state jobs.

Warden E. V. Nash said the new order, disclosed yesterday, applies to employees at the main prison, Algoa intermediate reformatory and the women's prison.

Officials of the State, County and Municipal Employees Union, Local 674, charged immediately that the new rule was "union busting." They said they would fight to protect the jobs of unionized guards.

Nash said about 100 employees are union members. The union said the total was near 200.

The warden said the new rule was put into effect after an opinion by Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton held that it would be legal. Dalton said it was clear that the warden and the director of the department have power to enforce a non-union regulation.

The opinion recalled a Missouri Supreme Court ruling which held members of the St. Louis Police Department cannot belong to labor unions.

'Special Account' Revealed

Senate Investigators Claim That Brewster Used Some of Union Fund to Buy House

WASHINGTON — Senate investigators developed today that about $100,000 in Seattle Teamsters Union local money was disbursed through a mysterious "special account." They said Frank Brewster used $4,000 of it to make a 1951 down payment on a home at Palm Springs, Calif.

Brewster, heavily perspiring on the witness stand, told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee he couldn't say how the "special account" money was spent.

But he said he thought Claude O'Reilly, a Teamster's official now dead, used it for state, county and city political contributions in Seattle and the State of Washington.

Brewster denied the money was used to pay his personal expenses.

The time was the 1950-53 period.

The story of this special account and Brewster's purchase of the Palm Springs home came atop introduction of documentary evidence which the investigators said showed union funds had been used to pay some expenses of Brewster's race horse stable.

It listed repairs to horse vans and expenses of a jockey, trainer, and a union organizer, who also exercised Brewster's horses, as paid from union money.

As detailed by Robert Kennedy, committee counsel, a total of $99,999.65 was transferred to the "special account" of Local 174.

Brewster said he couldn't explain what it went for, other than that O'Reilly must have used the money for political contributions.

Brewster said O'Reilly is now dead. He said until mid-1953 the Teamsters made their political contributions in cash, so there would be no records to support expenditures from the "special account."

Kennedy said the "special account" was a matter of a Seattle bank cashing checks and issuing cashier checks in the same amounts to Brewster and O'Reilly.

Apparently near hysteria, she burst through police lines at the U. S. Information Agency library during a tumultuous reception for the vice president from thousands of Tunisians.

"Liberty!" she shouted in Arabic. "We want liberty for the Algerian people. The French have killed Algerian children. Liberty!"

Nixon listened patiently while a Tunisian official translated her words. Then, without a word, he smiled and walked up the steps into the library office. He and his party are aware the United States is accused in some quarters of France of meddling in North African affairs.

The woman identified herself to newsmen afterward as a Mrs. Zarouche, Algerian wife of a Tunisian.

Bill Henry, Nixon's spokesman, said Nixon found labor leaders, businessmen and farm representatives of Tunisia, a former French protectorate, chouring the demand that France give up Algerian freedom is an absolute necessity" to assure peace and stability in North Africa.

Special Resume Is Presented

Hughesville Happy Helpers 4-H Club Wins 30th Drama Contest

"Bobby Sox" presented by the Hughesville Happy Helpers 4-H Club was judged the outstanding play Monday night in the 1957 Pettit County Drama Contest held at Smith-Cotton High School auditorium. The outstanding players named were Gayle Paige, who took the feminine lead as Sally in "Sally Takes A Bow," and Elaine Lowery, who took the part of Margie in "Bobby Sox."

"Bobby Sox" and "Sally Takes A Bow," the latter presented by Quisenberry 4-H Club, received blue ribbons according to the judging by the Danish point system, and "Foxy Grandma," presented by Striped College 4-H Club, and "No Tuxedo," presented by the Georgetown 4-H Club, received red ribbons. The outstanding player in "Foxy Grandma" was Leland Finley and Bill Meredith in "No Tuxedo."

"Bobby Sox" was directed by Mrs. Raymond Nagel and Mrs. Edwin Williams, and the young players did a superb piece of acting through the entire comedy which ran smoothly and naturally through out. Elaine Lowery as Margie, the older sister, whose boy friend, Norton, played by Larry Callis, was leaving the next day for military school, was left in a bad situation when her 14-year-old sister, Bobby Sox, played by Wanda Williams, attempted to take Norton away from her. Left alone for the evening with Norton coming over to spend his last evening with Margie, Bobby Sox calls three other boys, pretending she is Margie, and asks them to come over. Norton is given a tough time, as is Margie, who is about convinced that Bobby Sox has beaten her time with Norton, when the trick Bobby Sox played is discovered. Others in the play were Cathy DeBord as Mrs. Hanna and the three boys, Cal, played by Billy Bruning, Bill by John Lowell Fitzgerald and Cliff by Jimmie Martin.

Gayle Paige won her honors in acting for the part of stage-struck teenage Sally, in "Sally Takes A Bow." Sally had dreamed all summer as she attended every performance at the Summer Theatre that had been showing just outside

Crowds Follow Procession

Body of Magsaysay Returned To the Philippine Capital

MANILA — The charred body of Ramon Magsaysay, third president of the Philippine Republic, returned to this grieving capital today.

The flag-draped coffin of the popular 49-year-old chief executive, who crashed to his death with 25 others on a Cebu Island mountainside early Sunday, was flown here in the presidential plane Pagasa.

Weeping crowds followed the bier as it was driven slowly through the sun-baked streets to Malacan Palace. It will lie in state there for three days until the funeral Friday.

Nearly half a million persons swarmed around the palace.

As the nation mourned, a six-man investigating team dug into the likely causes of the fatal plane crash — including the possibility of sabotage.

Less emphasis was being placed on the sabotage angle than others because of the close security precautions that always accompanied the President, one of Asia's most determined foes of communism. But Col. Pedro Q. Molina, acting air force chief, said sabotage could not be ruled out.

Air force officials listed three other possible causes — pilot error, engine trouble and air pockets.

Mustangs of the Philippine air force shepherded the white presidential plane as it neared the capital.

Cries of grief welled up from a throng of some 50,000 when the plane landed. The crowd surged towards the craft as a 1-gun salute thundered over the field.

Carols P. Garcia, Magsaysay's as president yesterday, headed the vice president who was sworn in waiting officials and diplomats.

Arriving at Malacan, the coffin was borne by khaki-clad soldiers into the great lobby. The beautiful widow, Mrs. Luz Banzon Magsaysay, who last saw her husband alive Saturday, met the sealed coffin at the entrance to the maroon and gray ceremonial hall.

Weeping softly, she and her three children followed the bier to the center of the room, where it was installed in state before an altar.

It Was a Sad Wedding Day

WEDDING PARTY MARRED — Late Saturday night a bride and groom, A/2c and Mrs. Henry Nierodzik, Whitehaven AFB were being taken to Posie Point on the Lake of the Ozarks to celebrate their wedding, which took place earlier in the evening, when the trip was disrupted by the above tragedy. Lying on the ground beside her demolished automobile is Mrs. Mary Deloris Dusek, 31, who remains in a critical condition from serious head injuries. She was driving the car, taking the couple to the Lake. In the picture is A/2c Ralph Whittington, 22, who accompanied the party, and in the background, only his coat showing, is A/2c Nierodzik, endeavoring to comfort Mrs. Dusek while waiting the arrival of an ambulance. The accident occurred on Highway 52, about a mile west of the Windsor Junction of Highway 65. (Democrat-Capital photo)

Forms Public Works Board

Bipartisan Group Will Run Water Firm After Purchase

Sedalia now has a Board of Public Works, a new department for the city government created by the passage of an ordinance which was made necessary by the purchase of the Sedalia Water Co. by the city. The board will take over the supervision of the water company as soon as the purchase is completed.

The ordinance established the board as a part of the executive department. It is a bi-partisan board composed of two Democrats and two Republicans and will supervise and operate the water company.

Later, during the council proceedings, Mayor Julian H. Bagby said: "I would like a motion that, pending a study by the Board of Public Works of the waterworks to be acquired by the city from the Sedalia Water Co., it be operated with the same charges for water and other services and in accordance with the other rules and practices as those in effect at the time of the acquisition of the water works by the city and that the same personnel to be employed by the city." The motion was made and unanimously passed.

Mayor Bagby then presented the names of those to serve on the board, with permission of the Council: Herman E. Bloess, term to expire April 30, 1957; William A. Howell, term to expire April 30, 1958; C. Ross Bothwell, term to expire April 30, 1959; and Henry C. Salveter, term to expire April 30, 1960.

Councilman Earl Paxton took the floor and complimented Mayor Bagby on his choice and then moved the approval of the Council which was unanimous.

Egypt Lays on Line In New Memoranda Its Intended Method

CAIRO — Still gaining ground in Gaza, Egypt has laid on the line the methods she intends to follow in operating the Suez Canal after its reopening.

President Nasser's government sent a memorandum to all foreign nations through diplomatic channels last night emphasizing the Egyptian approach to this issue.

Details were secret, but the government has already made clear its position that all tolls must be paid to Egyptian authorities, all ships will be subject to Egyptian laws during transit and that Israel will continue to be barred as an enemy nation.

Foreign embassy spokesmen refused to make public the memorandum.

Egypt's Suez Canal Authority declined comment, saying the memorandum involved high-level policy and was "outside our jurisdiction."

A spokesman said, however, Egypt intends to give 15 days notice before reopening the canal.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, boss of the U. N. salvage fleet, has estimated the channel will be cleared for vessels of maximum tonnage by April 10.

The Gaza Strip shared top attention with the canal.

The Egyptians said all the troops of the U. N. Emergency Force within the Strip will be stationed along the Gaza-Israel frontier tomorrow.

Cairo radio announced the impending withdrawal of the U. N. troops from their positions in the town of the Mediterranean coastal area as U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold packed for talks in Cairo on the Gaza question and other Middle East issues. Hammarskjold will leave New York late today.

The Cairo broadcast last night quoted Maj. Gen. Hassan Abdel Latif, Egyptian governor in Gaza, as saying the UNEF command had agreed its troops would evacuate the headquarters building it occupied in Gaza City and all towns in the strip within 48 hours.

The UNEF command already was moving increasing numbers of troops to 24-hour guard duty along the line dividing Israel and Gaza, and many Egyptian military vehicles were showing up in the strip. The number of Egyptian military personnel in the area could not be determined.

Latif was set to take over UNEF command headquarters as soon as the U. N. officials moved out.

A U. N. spokesman said some UNEF offices already had been handed over to the Egyptian civil administration. He added that legal records found in the building when UNEF took over were transferred to civil officials.

The Egyptian delegation to the Israeli-Egyptian Mixed Armistice Commission opened an office in Gaza City and the UNEF turned over the Gaza City jail to Palestinian police under Egyptian control.

Governor of Cyprus Is Doubtful About Latest Truce Offer

LONDON (UPI)—Field Marshal Sir John Harding, British governor of Cyprus, indicated today he was not convinced of the sincerity of the latest truce offer from the Greek-Cypriot underground on the rebellious island colony.

Harding flew here for consultations.

The island's EOKA underground last week offered to call off its campaign of violence against British rule if Britain would release Archbishop Makarios from exile. The Greek Orthodox Church leader on Cyprus was deported to the Seychelle Islands in the Indian Ocean last March after Britain accused him of fostering EOKA activity.

Reuther Offers Full Cooperation of Union To Senate Group

DETROIT (UPI)—Walter P. Reuther today offered the "fullest co-operation" of his United Auto Workers in any investigation that Senate labor investigators desire to make of the union.

In a letter to chairman McClellan of the Senate investigating committee, Reuther said:

"Any or all of our officers will appear before the committee voluntarily and answer all questions as fully as their knowledge permits. None of them will invoke the Fifth Amendment."

Reuther wrote McClellan that his letter was prompted by a statement from Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) calling for an investigation of the UAW. The UAW president said, "The name of the junior senator from Wisconsin has become a world-wide symbol of political immorality, and we are therefore reluctant to dignify him with a formal reply."

Mrs. John Stevens, Philomath, Ore.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Campbell, Ky., son of Mrs. Irma Fletcher, 209 East Seventh, at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, March 9, at Springfield, Tenn. The Rev. J. Howard Young, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Springfield, performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Fry, and the groom's mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Fletcher.

For her wedding the bride chose a navy blue suit with white trim and white hat.

The bride is a 1955 graduate of LaMonte High School and is employed at Lamy's Mfg. Co.

The bridegroom graduated from Windsor High School and is serving with the Airborne Infantry Combat Group at Fort Campbell.

The bride will join her husband the first of May.

Missionary Auxiliary Elects Two Delegates

The Cumberland Presbyterian Missionary Auxiliary met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Grover Racner, who presided over the meeting.

Mrs. Racner and Mrs. George Emo were elected delegates to the Presbytery. Mrs. Walter Benskin and Mrs. Sam Knapp are alternates. The Presbytery will be held April 26 at Norton. Mrs. Cammie Gault was appointed to represent the Auxiliary at the session meetings of the church.

A fellowship supper was served at 6:15 p.m. The Rev. Rainmiller of the Gospel Missionary Union of Kansas City, was the speaker. His theme was "The Harvest Truly Is Plenteous, but the Laborers Are Few." He showed colored slides on the lives of five missionaries, who were killed at Ecuador. A special offering was taken.

Wastebasket Salvage . . .

No editor's desk is devoid of reams of propaganda and free advertising material. The wonder is where it all comes from and how many millions of dollars are spent annually by concerns which hope to profit by free publicity.

Mail is burdened daily with this stuff, most of which hits the wastebasket. Fearful that some of the items may rate the classification of notabilia, editors slice open the envelopes and read the contents; that is, until by developing optical sensitivity, a cursory glance at the envelope or letter suffices. This becomes an art and is accomplished almost in the second or two of a hand swing as the left arm waves the material into the discard.

Some free publicity writers are not altogether dummies and are pretty clever with catch lines to cause even a cynical editor to stop and read a paragraph or two. For instance we were stopped momentarily by such startling introductions to articles as:

"The popcorn industry is struggling."

"Women move in on male activities—the purchase of beer . . ."

"Watts up in light bulbs . . .?"

So the editor wants to know about popcorn's struggle, women and beer, and also be illuminated about watts up with the light bulbs.

If the reader has read this far, he's probably frantic with curiosity, too, therefore we'll restrain our wastebasket frenzy in favor of a quick briefing.

The popcorn industry is struggling with an inventory surplus of 58 million pounds resulting from the giant harvest of 1956. This is the third year of depressed prices and no relief in sight. A proposed government plan need divert only a small fraction of the field corn acreage into popcorn and the existing surplus conditions will be aggravated into chaos. The Popcorn Processors' Association warns prospective growers to use extreme caution in planting popcorn, use genuine hybrid seed, and be sure of a reliable market.

The item about women moving in on man's beer drinking prerogative states that the nation's breweries report 50 per cent of all beer sold in grocery outlets is bought by women. More than half is consumed by guests and friends, and 46 per cent by television viewers.

About the light bulbs. The sales pattern in modern homes is for bulbs with higher wattages. A seven year trend shows a three per cent jump in 100-watters; a 15 per cent increase in 75-watters; an 8 per cent drop in 60-watters.

We have the temerity to suggest that increased beer-drinking at home with friends may account for the need of more bulb illumination, if it's blind the folks are getting. As for the popcorn industry's anxiety over its 58 million pounds surplus, what's the matter with shaking off their lassitude and promoting home nibbling of popcorn. All it takes is a good nation-wide advertising campaign of which this item is the first and last free plug.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Leadership Rivalry In Teamster Union

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The ramifications of Teamster union politics is almost as complicated as the rivalries and jealousies of Washington society.

For instance, there is probably no one more happy over the hot water in which dapper, dashing Jimmy Hoffa now finds himself than the head of the Teamsters, Dave Beck.

Beck would never admit this. In fact, he stated just the opposite. Nevertheless, Beck has been sore as a boil over the manner in which Hoffa has been nudging him for the No. 1 spot in the gigantic Teamsters Union.

Some Teamsters are even so unkind as to say that the story of Dave Beck's house and its sale for $163,000 to the Teamsters, was suggested to Beck by the Hoffa faction, then deliberately leaked to the press.

The member of the Teamsters' executive council who proposed in secret session that the Teamsters buy Beck's house was Sidney Brennan of Minneapolis, convicted under the Taft-Hartley act for taking money from an employer to cross a picket line against a strike called by John L. Lewis's District 50.

The Teamster official credited with leaking the story of the house purchase was Tom Hickey of New York, later engaged in a knockdown battle with Teamster John O'Rourke, Governor Dewey's former labor campaign manager. Both Beck and Hoffa hate Hickey, have now shunted him to the sidelines. Whether he or someone else leaked this story about the bizarre purchase of Beck's swank home with heated swimming pool, will never be known; the Teamster high command plays its cards too close to its chest.

Not so close to their chests has been the rivalry between Beck and Hoffa. When John Herlong, labor specialist for the Washington News, published a story two years ago which began: "Dave Beck has been dethroned as undisputed head of America's largest union," Beck hit the ceiling. He called a special press conference, told newsmen in no uncertain terms that he was boss of the Teamsters and would continue to be boss.

Actually there was a great deal of truth in Herlong's story. It marked the beginning of the ascendancy of the tough little Teamster from Detroit who began as a grocery clerk and who has taken over more and more power in the far-flung Teamsters Union.

It also marked one of the more intense chapters of the silent but very bitter Hoffa-Beck feud—all of it watched with a mixture of amusement and alarm by other labor leaders who have tried to keep their unions clean.

Roadblocks to Pipeline

Here's another illustration of how it pays to

Guest Editorial—

NEW YORK TIMES: The Size of a Flag. The question has been raised in a recent news story in this paper as to how big a flag. There is no standard-size American flag. The main criterion is that the flag's width be two-thirds of the length. We think that there are certain general dimensions, however, that should be observed.

A flag is a symbol, of course, and as such it should represent the qualities for which it stands. Consequently it can be large or small. It should be large enough to deserve respect and allegiance wherever it is flown. But it should not be so big that it can serve as a ready shield for scoundrels, the intemperate or the ignoble. It must not be so small that it is easily forgotten in the times or places where liberty is a dim and distant thing. It must be large enough to win a place dear to the hearts of its sons and daughters. But it should not be so big that its sight strikes terror and fear where it is shown.

It should be large enough to cover all its people, not just the few. . . . What matters is that where the banner waves those who live under it dwell in peace, in liberty and in justice.

have friends in high places—especially when it comes to oil.

Two independent oil men, Lowell Glasgow and Bert Hull of Texas, proposed running a pipeline from West Texas and New Mexico to California. There is about a million barrels of oil daily bottled up around the El Paso area which could relieve the oil deficit in California if piped there. That state imports about 270,000 barrels daily. In time of war this oil deficit would be serious, might paralyze California industry.

Glasgow and Hull found great interest for their project, plus financial backing—provided they could get a certificate of essentiality from the government. This certificate from the Treasury Department, permitting fast tax write-offs, is given after the Defense Department certifies to the Treasury that the project is essential to national defense.

At this point the two independent oil men ran into opposition. The independent oil companies around Texas and New Mexico were strong for the pipeline, but the major oil companies which supply oil to California were opposed. They have wells in Saudi Arabia, Java, Sumatra and various parts of Asia, plus tanker fleets. So the oil they import into California means as much profit for them as the oil they pump in California.

When Glasgow and Hull went to the Defense Department to get an O.K. for their certificate of necessity, they got nowhere.

The officials who helped pass on it included W. W. White, former vice-president of Esso Standard Oil, who now has gone back to Esso, and Hugh Stewart, formerly of the Texas Company. Both Texas and Standard of New Jersey are part owners of the Arabian-American Oil Company.

Fewer Open Spaces

Social fluidity and political flexibility are still features of American life. They are related not only to space but to now deeply ingrained habits of mobility and to our rich economic resources which spur individual initiative.

Yet it is apparent that we no longer have the same beckoning spaces we once had. The historians say the "geographic frontier" was closed long ago. That we still have an impressive economic frontier at all is considered the result of our remarkable scientific and inventive genius.

From ancient times people have always huddled together in cities. But never have they been so packed with humanity as in our great centers today. And the cities are fanning out into the countryside until in some places the land between two communities is almost wholly urbanized.

The smaller spaces left to men within the cities are vanishing just as are the great spaces. Many men need elbowroom, not only as an escape valve for their dissatisfactions, but also as a simple means of holding themselves apart as individuals.

The population explosion of the mid-20th century is devouring this "psychological space" as many developments helped consume geographic space.

We Americans are confronted with the task of accommodating to this great change.

We shall have to find new ways of securing our personal spaces despite the swelling numbers that jam our cities and even some of the countryside.

Perhaps, more and more, we will make our homes into little islands of privacy where we can retreat from the pounding human traffic.

Some of us, hearing the din outside, may be reluctant to emerge at all.

"We Gotta Get a Bigger Rug"

The World Today

Israelies Shouldn't Act So Surprised

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Israelis express surprise at what Egyptian President Nasser is doing. Any reason for the surprise? Not much unless they can produce secret pledges by the United States or the United Nations.

They've produced none yet. Secretary of State Dulles reportedly told senators yesterday there were none. All they got, it seems, were pious hopes that things would work out all right.

Take it step by step. When Israel's war with her Arab neighbors ended in 1949 there was an armistice agreement which gave Egypt control of the Gaza Strip. Egyptians later used Gaza for guerrilla raids on Israel.

Further, Egypt took over in 1951 the Tiran Islands at the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba, fortifying them, and blockaded Israeli shipping although the islands belong to Saudi Arabia.

Now the Egyptians are taking over control of Gaza while the U. N. troops are moving to the armistice line. Note: All the U. N. resolution said was that its troops would take positions on the armistice line. It didn't say Nasser wouldn't be permitted to take control of the whole of Gaza, except the line.

And now Saudi Arabia is taking over the Tiran Islands at the mouth of the gulf, with a denial of any Israeli rights in that water.

The United States is extremely anxious to keep Saudi Arabia friendly. If now the Israeli shipping is blockaded, this country will have the embarrassment of dealing with Saudi, instead of Nasser, although Nasser will get what he wants without being mixed up in an argument.

Where does that leave Israel? Probably blockaded again in the gulf. So long as U. N. troops remain on the armistice line, Egypt is unlikely to resume its raids on Israel.

But—Israel hasn't let the U. N. troops take up positions on the Israeli side of the armistice line, as they have on the Egyptian side. This may give Nasser an excuse to demand the withdrawal of U. N. troops altogether.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

senhower, Dulles, Henry Cabot Lodge, American delegate to the U. N., and U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold expressions of hope that once Israel withdrew solutions might be found.

Eisenhower also said:

1. If Egypt violated the armistice line, by raids on Israel, "this should be dealt with firmly by the society of nations." He didn't say how.

2. The United States was "prepared" to join with others to "seize general recognition" of all nations—which would include Israel—to free passage in the Gulf of Aqaba. Eisenhower didn't say how this would be done either.

So Israel withdrew from Egypt. U. N. troops moved into Gaza and into the gulf area.

Now the Egyptians are taking over control of Gaza while the U. N. troops are moving to the armistice line, as they have on the Egyptian side. This may give Nasser an excuse to demand the withdrawal of U. N. troops altogether.

The half-way mark in the state legislature passed last week with over 800 bills before the senate and house. The assembly must adjourn May 31.

The senate proposed over 300 bills before a March 1 deadline on introduction. After the March 15 deadline in the house, more than 500 measures, plus nearly 20 proposed constitutional amendments were before the city hall.

Fred C. Stuck, Chicago, a national field representative for the Izaak Walton League, addressed members of the local chapter at a meeting held at the city hall.

Henry L. Stephens, North Carolina, national commander of the American Legion, enroute to the Pacific Coast accompanied by Mrs. Stephens and his secretary, Tom Bird, made a brief stop here and he conferred with Peter T. O'Brien, state commander of the Legion.

Dennis F. Corbett, operator of a meat market at 700 South Ohio, died Sunday morning at Bothwell Hospital. He had been a Sedalia resident since six years old.

Cecil Meredith, Chicago, Ill., a former Sedalian, was here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Meredith, and other relatives.

The residence of seven rooms occupied by A. L. May and family, northeast of Hughesville, was destroyed by fire together with its contents Saturday, March 17. It was on a farm owned by James Elgin, Sedalia.

Mrs. J. Rudd VanDyne purchased the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Murray on West Broadway and with her family was to make it their home.

Dr. E. F. Yancey, Sedalia, was appointed by Gov. Frederick D. Gardner as a member of the board of regents of the state normal at Warrensburg.

A bill which would raise the limits for third class counties has passed the house and is now before the senate.

The proposal increases the upper limit for 3rd class counties from $50 million assessed valuation to $70 million. Its sponsor, Rep. Harry Smith (D-Saline county), said his county is near the upper limit and soon will move automatically into the 2nd class unless the bill is passed. He said Saline county does not want to move to the 2nd class because it will have to charge higher taxes and pay higher wages to officials. The bill passed 116 to 10.

County superintendents would be given a pay raise under a bill introduced by Rep. Paul Amick (D-Maries county).

His bill would require county superintendents to make a survey of safety factors affecting children in their county. The increase would be $1800 a year in 1st class counties; $1200 in 2nd class counties and $1,000 a year in 4th class counties.

Proposed changes in state laws to increase old age pensions from $60 to $70 a month are being considered by the senate appropriations committee after successful passage in the house.

Several other welfare bills have passed the house and are awaiting approval of the senate committees.

The resolution noted that the position of county superintendent has become obsolete because reorganization has eliminated most of the three member school board districts which were under the county superintendent.

Four senators, four house members and four educators would be named to a committee to study the office of county superintendent.

The resolution needs approval of the house and senate before it could go into effect.

Rep. Frank Carter has produced a bill which he hopes will keep his home county of Wright from becoming a third class county.

Carter sponsored a bill to require a vote of the people before a 4th class county could move into the 3rd class. Now a 4th class county automatically moves up to 3rd class if it has $10 million assessed valuation for five years in a row.

Carter said Wright county cannot afford to move into the 3rd class.

He said if the county moves up to the higher category it will have to

Chaplain Tells of Ireland At St. Patrick's Dinner

There was a scattering of many nationalities joining the Irish Sunday night at the big St. Patrick's Day banquet at St. Patrick's school hall and practically every one, especially the Irish themselves, had on a touch of green. Those who did not have took the little green shamrocks stuck in the marshmallows which were favors at each place and put them in coat lapels or pinned them on.

The story of Ireland was told in an interesting manner by the Rev. Francis Gallen, Catholic chaplain at the Whittemore Air Force Base. Father Gallen said that his home town was named Kellyville and was so named because a Mrs. Kelly, who had come to this country from Ireland didn't like the abusive language and oaths being used by the drivers of the teams in the wagon trains going west and vowed she would stay right at the spot the next oath was used. She did and that later became Kellyville.

Ireland, said the speaker, is the story of a race of men who existed before the foundation of Rome and perhaps when Greece was still in a state of barbarism. It's a story, he said of a high state of civilization with a system of laws second only to Rome, a culture approaching that of Greece and a social and economic system superior to either of them. Ireland was like this as it lived its Pagan life until the clan system, it believed in one supreme being. It was like an apple ready to be plucked and God chose the right man and the right time to do his work.

St. Patrick was a man who performed miracles, he raised to life

Soviet Boss Pens Answer To US Editor

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev, answering a letter from Managing Editor Charles L. Clapp of the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Herald, said what he called the U. S. "policy of strength" is endangering world peace.

He called for better U.S.-Russian relations to reduce international tension.

"We are for relieving international tension and improving Soviet-American relations because we believe that this corresponds to the interests of the Soviet as well as the American people," he said.

The statements, repeating remarks made previously by Khrushchev and other Russian leaders, were included in a 3 1/4-page letter handed to Clapp at Washington Saturday by Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zaroubin.

The interview was distributed by Russia's Tass news agency, published in Berlin by the official East German news agency ADN, and broadcast by Moscow radio.

Mrs. John Youngkamp from the Harper School of Artistic Dance presented a group of her pupils in dances: Janice Walker in a little blue and white costume with sailor collar and tiny pleated skirt and little sailor cap, danced the Military Tap; three little girls in green and white costumes with shamrocks in their hair danced "It's An Irishman Am I". The girls were Carla Dumsday, Sandra Smith and Suzanne Scott. A toe dance by Nancy Priess was followed by a tap dance, "Bye Bye Blues" by Pamela Price. The last dance number was by a group of four Kansas City girls dressed in little Irish costumes, Judy Hayes, Leslie Kimball, Joyce Rickerts and Jo Beades.

Special guests at the head table were introduced by James T. Denney. They were Father Pelecki, Father G. P. Pelletier, Father Stodel, Father Schroder and Father Steinwck, Mayor Julian H. Bagby and Postmaster Maurice Hogan.

Invocation and benediction was by the Rev. J. T. Nolan.

The hall was decorated in keeping with the day, a huge shamrock forming a background for the speaker's table, and shamrocks on the walls all around the room. The arrangement on the speaker's table was of green carnations and white stocks with three lighted green candles in crystal holders on either side. Tiny shamrocks were attractive on the white linen tablecloth.

The dinner was served by the ladies of the Altar Society of the St. Patrick's Church with Mrs. Harold Gunn in charge.

Says Ike May Ask For Emergency Aid

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune said today that President Eisenhower is preparing to ask Congress for a 400-million-dollar emergency foreign aid fund.

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper said it had been learned that the President intends to make the request in a special foreign aid message that he will send to Congress in mid-April.

The fund would be four times larger than the special fund Congress voted last year.

Texas Legislator Proposes Cool Air In Place of Hot Air

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Resolutions have been introduced to install air conditioning in the House chamber and legislative committee rooms.

"They won't be noisy," said the author, Rep. Marshall O. Bell, "just a gentle hum like a conversation off in a corner."

"If I understand your resolution," said Rep. J. Gordon Bristow, "it is to substitute cool air for the hot air."

"That's correct," Bell said. "A little comfort begins at home."

Midwest Still Has Midwinter Look

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today was the last full day of the winter season but it looked like midwinter in many northern Midwest states with the second heavy snowfall in less than a week.

Snow piled up to a foot in sections of Nebraska and South Dakota and there were lesser amounts in parts of Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Blizzards hit some of the same areas last Thursday and Friday.

A mixture of freezing rain, sleet and snow occurred in Lower Michigan during the night while snow fell in most of Wisconsin. Falls had ended in most areas west of the Mississippi River in Iowa and the plains although skies were overcast.

Rain or drizzle was widespread from Missouri and Illinois eastward through the Ohio Valley and southward to the South Atlantic Coast.

Quick Pizza Snack So easy to fix with Fresh Holsom Buns

Recommended by Betty Baker, Home Economist, American Research Kitchen

When at home, do as the Romans do and serve pizza. This delicious hurry-up version takes just minutes to prepare.

Toast halves of Holsom Hamburger buns under broiler. When delicately browned, remove and place one slice of Italian cheese (or any good melting kind) on each half. Spread on one tablespoon tomato sauce, one tablespoon salad oil, salt and pepper. Sprinkle with grated parmesan cheese. Garnish with anchovy strips or sliced olives. Bake on cookie sheet in 450° oven for 10 minutes. Serve immediately.

You'll be surprised how fast these unusual individual pizzas will disappear. Make plenty—cause they're both good and good for you. Holsom Buns are enriched with Vitamin B1, B2, Iron, Calcium and Niacin—vitals for every day health.

Ike's Health Is Improved After Rest

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER (AP)—President Eisenhower described as feeling much better after three days of warm sunshine, steamed toward Bermuda today for talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Traveling aboard the Navy guided missile cruiser Canberra, Eisenhower is to arrive at Hamilton, Bermuda, late tomorrow. His session with Macmillan will commence Thursday and end Sunday.

The President sailed from Norfolk, Va., last Thursday evening on a meandering six-day voyage to Bermuda in a move to shake off persistent cough, a head cold and an ear inflammation.

From Saturday morning until last night the Canberra cruised leisurely in the quiet, sunlit waters of Exuma Bay in the Bahama Islands area. Then the warship moved around the southern tip of Cat Island and headed to Bermuda, 850 miles northeast.

Just before the Canberra moved out of Exuma Bay last night the President told the crew he was having "a most enjoyable trip."

His informal remarks from an impromptu stage on the floodlit forecastle deck came at the end of a "happy hour" program of entertainment put on for him by the crew.

Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, White House physician aboard the Canberra, reported to newsmen on escorting destroyers that Eisenhower was doing fine in building up his health.

Snyder said the President's ear ailment has cleared up and that he now is coughing only occasionally. A head cold from which he had suffered has about disappeared.

Eisenhower smiled broadly and waved a greeting to crew members at the rails of the destroyers Wood and Barton yesterday afternoon as he circled the ships in a 35-foot motor launch.

The President, wearing a bright red cap and a tan windbreaker, was returning to the Canberra after trolling for fish off nearby Little San Salvador Island. Eisenhower was out about two hours but had no luck. His naval aide, Capt. E. P. Aurand, landed a big barracuda.

cheered the vice president as he arrived at the embassy.

Nixon spent hours last night discussing Tunisia's economic plight with Premier Habib Bourguiba.

Later today Nixon was to join the Premier in ceremonies opening the celebration of Tunisia's first independence anniversary.

Massachusetts Will Extradite Foster Parents of Child

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Massachusetts authorities made plain today they will extradite the foster parents of Hildy McCoy if Florida will give them up.

Dist. Atty. Myron Lane of Norfolk County, Mass., said "rendition" papers for the return of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis probably would go to Gov. Foster Furcolo tomorrow. A spokesman for the Massachusetts governor said Furcolo would sign them.

Kidnap charges are outstanding against the Ellises, who fled Massachusetts in 1955 to avoid complying with court orders to surrender their 6-year-old adopted child.

The Ellises are Jewish. Hildy's mother, Mrs. Marjorie McCoy Doherty of Hingham, Mass., who demands her return, is Roman Catholic. Massachusetts law provides for placement of children with foster parents of the same religious faith when practicable.

Hubbard Wins Grades Cage Tourney

The C. C. Hubbard Grade School basketball team won its own Invitational Basketball Tournament played at the C. C. Hubbard High School gym last weekend. The Hubbard aggregation defeated Sacred Heart of Sedalia by a score of 36-64.

Third place honors went to Warsaw's Grade School which defeated Lincoln by a score of 50-36.

Hubbard's aggregation jumped to a first quarter lead and was never threatened. Cole of Hubbard carried the mail for his team scoring 26 points while Farris of Sacred Heart was the high man for his team with 24.

Opening the first quarter the champions scored 23-11, 25-16 in the second for a half time lead of 48-27. They fell short in the third as Sacred Heart scored 23 to 14, but resumed the high scoring in the fourth getting 24-14.

In the second game, Warsaw was off to a slow start as Lincoln led 13-11 in the opening quarter. The tables turned in the second as Warsaw struck back 15-17 to take the half time lead of 26-20. The third period it was 17-7 and final 12-9 for Warsaw to win easily.

Scott was high for Warsaw with 28 points and Kreissler of Lincoln led his team with 12 points.

The All-Star team of the tournament is composed of the following players: Sterling Robinson, Leroy Cole, Enos Johnson, Robert Crockett, all of Hubbard; Scott, of Warsaw; Wallace Ressel, and John Mateja, Sacred Heart; Gary Frisch, Lincoln; C. Cason, Fulton; and Ernest Dow, Sedalia Optimist.

Trophies were presented to the Coach and Captain of the winning team by Janie McFerrin, "Miss Hubbard" of 1956-57.

Redlegs Pitcher Would Walk Giant Player

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Willie Mays, the New York Giants' brilliant center fielder, laughed when he heard a suggestion by a rival National League pitcher that the best way to pitch to him was to throw four wide ones past him.

The suggestion came from Brooks Lawrence of the Cincinnati Redlegs, who said at Tampa, Fla., he'd give Willie nothing good to look at this season and take his chances with the batter behind Mays.

"That fellow Lawrence was pulling somebody's leg," said Mays today. "I don't think I got three or four hits off him last year. He's spreading some false propaganda."

But judging by Willie's start this exhibition season, maybe Lawrence has the right idea.

As the Giants met the Chicago Cubs at Mesa, Ariz., in the 10th game of cactus league competition, Mays had a spring batting average of .516 on 16 hits in 31 trips. Nine were extra-base blows, including three homers.

Mays shrugs off his torrid start as nothing exceptional. "I get in shape quick," he said. "And I'm not hitting anything but straight pitching. This is spring, you know. They don't start throwing that ball for keeps until April 17."

Zernial Stops Ideas Of Athletics Trade

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gus Zernial, who has been considered for trade several times by the Kansas City Athletics, has just about scuttled all such thoughts. The power hitting outfielder is currently the most dangerous hitting on the Kansas City roster.

Zernial is not taking as many pitches as he did last year and his hustling play has caused a great deal of comment among his teammates.

Dickson Opens 21st Season In Baseball

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Murry Dickson crossed his legs, looked at his hands and said "I want to pitch as long as I can. Just as long as I can."

He's been giving it a good try. This is his 21st season in baseball, his 16th in the majors.

The little righthander, at 41 the oldest player in the National League, was sitting in the St. Louis Cardinal bullpen.

"I guess that knuckleball is my best pitch," he said. "I throw the same pitches I threw, say, 10 years ago. But I throw the knuckle more often now."

It was suggested that at 41 a pitcher might get a little weary on the mound, even a guy like Murry who pitched more innings (219) and completed the most (12) of anyone on the Cardinal staff last season, when he won 13, lost 11.

"No," he answered. "I don't know as I feel tired out there. Weight never has bothered me. Maybe that explains it. But in the off season I hunt and fish and work as a carpenter with my brother back home in Leavenworth, Kan."

"Going up and down ladders and swinging a hammer keeps you in shape."

"I'd rather be a starting pitcher. Work every three or four days," said Murry. "But I don't know what plans they have for me."

Someone asked who was the toughest hitter for Dickson to handle.

"Roy Campanella," he answered. "He really hits my knuckleball. I don't know how he does it."

Dickson smiled and added: "And I don't think he knows either."

Hungarian Wins TKO Over Rocky Milone In 8th Round of Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Hotter than the paprika in his native Hungary, undefeated welterweight Stefan Redl had a truckload of offers today following his 13th straight victory.

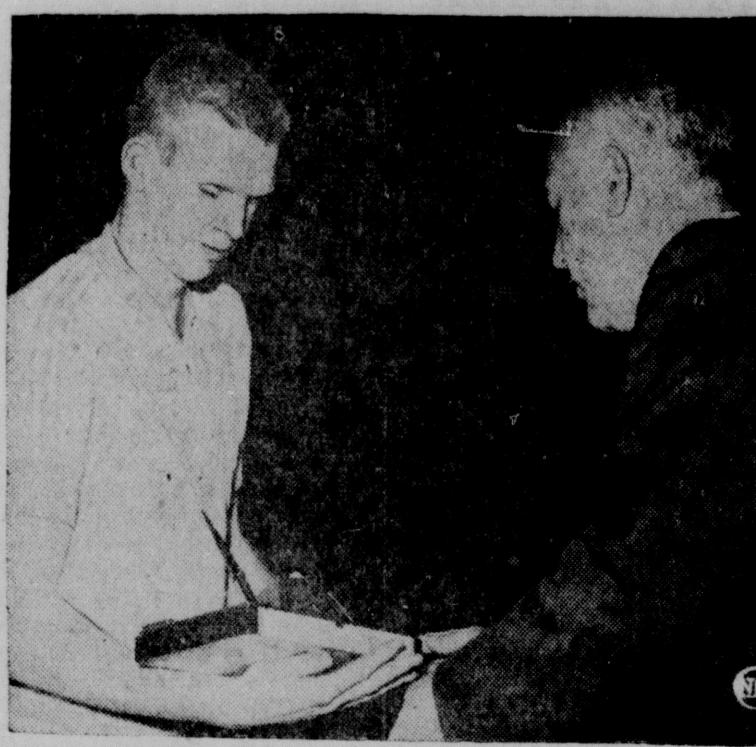

A pro just 11 months, the Hungarian-born German now fighting out of Passaic, N. J., racked up No. 13 and his 10th knockout by halting rugged, wild-swinging Al (Rocky) Milone of Brooklyn in 2:04 of the eighth round of an action-packed televised slugfest at St. Nicholas Arena last night.

The strong, 24-year-old import was down twice in the second round before he decked Rocky three times and won on a technical knockout. Redl, a 4-1 favorite who was outweighed 144 to 148½, dropped Milone, 23, once in the seventh and twice in the eighth to send Referee Barney Felix to Rocky's rescue.

Redl got into trouble in the second because of a slip to the canvas. Before he got both knees off the floor, Milone belted him to the deck again. Shortly afterward Milone again felled Redl with a right.

After the second round, Redl gave the Brooklynite a solid shellacking.

Unseeded Pair Steal Play From Baylor

NEW YORK (AP) — A couple of up-and-unsed teams, St. Bonaventure and Memphis State, took the play away from Seattle University's highly touted Elgin (Rabbit) Baylor in the National Invitation basketball tourney last night.

Baylor was a disappointment in his first New York appearance as the Bonnies drubbed Seattle 85-68 after Memphis State had walloped Manhattan 85-73.

St. Bonaventure and Memphis State thus advanced to Thursday's semifinals. By the luck of the draw, they will oppose each other.

The round of four will be completed tonight when second-seeded Bradley meets Xavier of Ohio and Temple meets Dayton at Madison Square Garden.

The Bonnies overcame an early 10-4 Seattle lead and poured it on to shatter Seattle's 18-game winning streak. Memphis State did the same thing against Manhattan.

Baylor, a 6-6 high school star in Washington, D.C., before he entered Seattle, was downcast in the dressing room. He had fouled out after scoring 23 points but his floor work and passing were poor.

"I was tired," he said. "I couldn't seem to catch my breath. I don't know what was the matter."

Eddie Donovan, Bonnie coach, was overwhelmed with congratulations.

"McCann was tremendous," he beamed, referring to 6-2 Brendan McCann. "I had McCann play in front of Baylor and he did a tremendous job. The other boys were great too."

Thanks to five straight field goals by Angelo Lombardi, Manhattan broke a 10-10 tie to take a 22-14 lead early in the first game. But Memphis State went on a tear of its own to gain the lead at 28-27 on Win Wilfong's goal from under the net. The Tigers never yielded the lead after that.

The strong, 24-year-old import was down twice in the second round before he decked Rocky three times and won on a technical knockout. Redl, a 4-1 favorite who was outweighed 144 to 148½, dropped Milone, 23, once in the seventh and twice in the eighth to send Referee Barney Felix to Rocky's rescue.

Red Sox Offer Indians Million For Herb Score

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians still had pitcher Herb Score today, while the Boston Red Sox kept their million dollars and Hank Greenberg headed for Lakeland, Fla., to talk trade with the Detroit Tigers.

Greenberg, Cleveland general manager, and Joe Cronin, ditto for the Red Sox, casually talked in million-dollar terms yesterday.

"We had just a short talk, and it concerned the possibility of a trade," said Greenberg, when asked about Cronin's million-dollar offer for Score, Cleveland's 20-game winner.

"Cronin told me that what the Red Sox needed was a good, first-line pitcher and that Score would probably be worth a million dollars to the Red Sox."

"Then I said to him, 'You mean you'd really give a million dollars for Score?'

"Cronin said he would."

The Cleveland official advised Cronin he was out to build up the Indians, not tear them down.

Cronin, whose Red Sox, with the Indians, are the main contenders against the Yankees, confirmed he had made the offer for Score.

"We tried to make a deal with Cleveland and haven't been able to work anything out," he said.

"Finally I said to Greenberg, 'There's only one thing I can do. That is to offer you a million dollars for Herb Score. Take that back to your board of directors."

Cardinal Candidate For Centerfield Makes Debut Against Braves

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Young Bobby Gene Smith, a candidate for the centerfield job with the St. Louis Cardinals, made his varsity debut yesterday.

The 22-year-old graduate of the Texas League doubled his first time at the plate, then walked and rolled out. The Cardinals lost to Milwaukee 7-3.

Smith, who hit 21 home runs for Houston last year, is contending with Bobby Del Greco and Chuck Harmon for the centerfield slot. Del Greco, playing in right field, went hitless in four trips to the plate and struck out twice.

Lynn Lovenguth was pounded for seven runs and six hits in the two innings he worked. The 33-year-old hurler, the International League's most valuable pitcher last season, is trying for a spot on the Cards' mound staff.

Honeymoon

Couple's Trip To Mexico Produces Cash

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ever feel like chucking the whole works and going to live in a Mexican village?

Eileen Bassing and her husband Bob did. They left behind Hollywood careers to lead the simple vestment paid off. Out of it came life below the border. And the inner novel, "Home Before Dark," which they are now adapting for Warner Brothers. The studio paid $100,000 for it.

It's quite a switch for the Bassings, who at times were virtually penniless in Mexico.

Eileen is an attractive Bostonian who doesn't look old enough to have sons of 18 and 21. She is a veteran of the studios, having worked as story analyst, technical advisor, etc. Bob Bassing was assistant story editor at Columbia Pictures.

"We both wanted to write," she remarked, "but we realized it was impossible to do so at home. We decided the only thing to do was to get away, and we thought we could live most cheaply in Mexico."

"So we sold all our belongings and left. All our friends said we were crazy, and maybe we were. But we had to try it."

They settled in the village of Ajijic, an idyllic community that had previously attracted writers D. H. Lawrence, John Dos Passos and Tennessee Williams. After a year, the Bassings found themselves broke.

But they weren't ready to admit defeat. They sent for their books and opened a lending library for the American and English residents and tourists.

Meanwhile, the Bassings wrote. He found success in short stories and she worked on a novel about a young woman's return to normal life after a mental breakdown.

After three years in Mexico, the Bassings had to return.

"It was my health," she said. "We boiled our water and raised our own vegetables, but still I always got the illnesses that most tourists get. They nearly lost me a couple of times. Finally the doctor told me bluntly and with no bedside manner that I would have to leave or I would die."

They returned here and Bob clicked at once with a TV script. On the day she was about to take a job as a story editor at Screen Gems, Columbia's TV subsidiary, Random House accepted her book. Several companies sought it for filming, but Warners came up with the most money.

Lana Turner Denies Rumor of Marriage

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lana Turner, just back from a film festival in Uruguay, says: "Getting married is the last thing in my mind right now."

Her comment, made upon her arrival yesterday, came in reply to a New York newspaper's story the actress planned to marry a wealthy Brazilian, Luiz Santes Jacinto.

"Isn't that the very end?" said Miss Turner. "Here I am not even divorced."

She and actor Lex Barker separated four weeks ago.

"I've known this man for 11 years," "All my Brazilian friends travel in a group. We lunch together, dine together. Luiz is a very serious young man with a business. He's never even been to the United States."

'Last Tycoon' Reinforces Good Opinion

NEW YORK (AP)—The presentation of "The Last Tycoon" by Playhouse 90 (CBS-TV) was a highlight of the winter TV dramatic season. It reinforced opinions one forms after watching that 90-minute Thursday evening program over a long period of time.

When scripts of high dramatic value are chosen, 90 minutes are preferable to 60 minutes in TV drama. The films made by an outside packaging producer which are so vastly inferior to its usual live productions that using only that comparative basis, one would say live drama is indeed preferable to filmed.

Finally, the Hollywood produced program belies the contention of many New York producers that the West Coast cannot turn out live TV dramas of distinction.

Jack Palance, playing the head of a motion picture studio, gave a superb interpretation of a complex man confronting complex problems in "The Last Tycoon."

Meanwhile, the Bassings wrote.

He found success in short stories and she worked on a novel about a young woman's return to normal life after a mental breakdown.
